Access & Entry Requirements

CTH accredited centres must first assess all applicants to ensure they meet the mandatory admission requirements below, and are deemed able to meet the demands of the course. Prospective students should then complete the mandatory CTH Level 7 application form with full supporting evidence before any offer is made. CTH will consider the applications and evidence provided and inform centres of the decision to accept/deny each application.

Only students approved by CTH may be admitted and subsequently enrolled. Applications for CTH membership should then be submitted within 6 weeks of enrolment.

The qualification is at the same level as a UK university postgraduate/Master's degree. All learners are expected to have, or be given support by the Centre to acquire academic study skills at a postgraduate level for this qualification.

ACCREDITATION REQUIREMENTS

Accreditation

Prospective Centres should apply for approval as an accredited CTH Centre in order to deliver this qualification. Please see the 'Contact CTH' page at the end of this specification for advice on the CTH accreditation process, or wish to discuss your curriculum requirements.

The CTH accreditation committee will consider applications from centres against a set of criteria, including the availability of suitable teaching accommodation and staffing, experience of delivering qualifications at a similar level and evidence of expertise in academically-related areas including planning the delivery of courses leading to regulated qualifications, quality assurance and preventing malpractice. A skype conversation with CTH academic and quality staff will form part of the initial accreditation application process

Teaching Rooms

Suitable teaching rooms and IT facilities should be available to students. Accommodation and equipment used for the delivery of the qualification must comply with the relevant legislation relating to Health & Safety.

The approved Centre should ideally also provide an appropriate area and facilities for student relaxation and recreation.

Centre Staffing

Staff delivering this qualification must be able to demonstrate that they meet the following requirements:

- Be occupationally competent or technically knowledgeable in the area for which they are teaching
- Have recent relevant experience in the specific area that they will be assessing or verifying
- Hold a teaching qualification as well as a relevant degree.

CTH will review the CV's of all teaching staff when a potential Centre seeks approval to deliver the qualification.

Continuing Professional Development

Centres must support their staff to ensure that they have current knowledge of the occupational area, and that delivery, assessment and internal verification is in line with current good practice and takes into consideration relevant international regulatory requirements.

CTH SUPPORT

CTH training

New CTH centres are eligible for free training (delivered online in most cases) to help them prepare, then deliver their courses leading to CTH qualifications.

CTH also offers training for Internal Verifiers, and for teaching staff who may be delivering a unit for the first time.

CTH Members Website and resources

Students become CTH Student members when they register for CTH qualifications, and have access to the CTH Members website, as well as a lapel pin and membership badge. The Members website resource is available for both Centre teaching staff and students and contains a wealth of resources. Students can access our online resource library including relevant e-books and journals from EBSCO. Teaching staff can download teaching materials including the CTH Learning Toolkits per unit as well as subject specific PowerPoint slides, past exam papers and assessments and examiner reports.

Assessment opportunities

CTH offer up to five assessment opportunities each year, with associated Exam Boards and Certification. Contact CTH or see the CTH website for more details.

Assessment responsibilities

CTH set and distribute all assessments to centres where learners have been registered.

- For assignments, Centres are responsible for marking and internal verification. Student assignments, signed student declarations and progress tutorial reports are sent electronically to CTH, who then moderate student work.
- All examination scripts are returned to CTH for marking and moderation.

Qualification Level, Size and Structure

Qualification Grading Criteria

Individual units can be graded either as fail, pass, merit or distinction. However, the qualification is not subject to grading. The qualification is either achieved or not achieved. In terms of certification, this means that students will receive a transcript of their results showing the grades for each unit successfully completed, plus the Diploma that recognises their level of achievement. Note that the Diploma does not allocate a grade.

The following table explains the generic grading criteria that should be used by centres in conjunction with the unit mark sheets to assess all students' work.

Level 7	Students who fail:	To achieve a pass, students must:	To achieve a merit grade (60% to 79%) students must:	To achieve a distinction grade (80%+) students must:

Assessment Methodology

Given the broad and highly varied nature of the tourism and hospitality business, assessment of knowledge purely by examination is not generally felt to be an appropriate assessment method. Students need to demonstrate their higher-level skills and qualities specified in the learning outcomes within a heterogeneous vocational context where investigative assignments and presentations are more appropriate.

Assessment of students' work will be carried out by a range of methods including assignment, essay examination or work assessment. Students' work will be measured against the specified learning outcomes and assessment criteria of each unit. Mark schemes are provided for each unit and grading criteria are set out below to assist assessors in allocating marks.

For students who wish to progress to a university degree course, CTH recommends that where a unit offers a choice of assessment method, students should carry out assignments rather than practical assessments.

See Appendix A for specimen assessment materials applicable to this qualification.

Assessment – Assignment Task 1 (80%)

Students are required to develop a business strategy for a hospitality or tourism organisation of their choice. Student's assignment should be 4,000 words in total and include:

- An introduction into their chosen organisation including for example information on size, markets, products/services, target customers, current corporate/business objectives.
- The use of a variety of theories, models and concepts to critically evaluate two strategic options and their associated risks available to their selected organisation.
- Recommendation and justification of the best strategic option for the organisation to achieve its strategic objectives.
- Outline the business strategy for the organisation using appropriate planning models.

Secondary research activities are most likely to be used in this assignment. However, this should not preclude students from carrying out primary research if they feel it is appropriate. In this assignment students should ensure that they collect, collate, analyse and evaluate sufficient quantitative data to be able to identify strategic options.

When selecting an organisation, students should be aware that they need access to a range of quantitative and qualitative information in order to analyse and evaluate the business's capabilities and resources. For example the information required will probably include, but will not be limited to:

- vision, mission and values
- financial reports
- marketing reports and distribution channel information
- data relating to tangible and intangible assets
- human resources data.

Students may be able to gain access to this information through their contacts in industry. However, if this is difficult students should be guided towards hospitality or tourism Public Limited Companies, as the required information should be available through their published reports. The information is usually available through the 'investor information', (or similar), section on corporate websites.

Students will also need a range of quantitative and qualitative information in order to analyse and evaluate the external and competitive environments. Data relating to the external environment is most likely to be sourced from reports, particularly those published by government and non-government organisations, industry bodies and research institutions. Competitor data can be sourced directly from competing organisations, and also from industry bodies.

All research should be appended to this assessment.

All theories, concepts, models and industry examples must be appropriately referenced using Harvard Referencing.

Assessment – Assignment Task 2 (20%)

Students are required to write an assignment (1,000 words) with reference to their chosen organization about:

- The usefulness of business strategy theory in identifying and evaluating business opportunities and determining business strategies. Note: students should compare and contrast a variety of business theories and approaches.
- The role of ethics in developing strategy for business success.

Students should approach this task as a reflective piece of work that focuses on their individual learning and understanding of the issues raised by the topic/organisation they choose. Their discussion should be critically evaluative and does not need to draw firm conclusions but should concentrate on raising issues for consideration when developing business strategy.

Students may be supported in their preparation for this task by centres arranging group discussions around the topic areas during which participants are encouraged to express, justify and debate their opinions. Following the discussions participants would be encouraged to record their learning and opinions which could then be included in their assignment as evidence of reflection and evaluation.
