Introduction to the CTH Level 3 Diploma in Professional Cookery: Confectionery and Patisserie

Introduction:

The purpose of this document is to explain the aims, structure, and content of the CTH Level 3 Diploma in Professional Cookery: Confectionery and Patisserie.

This document includes the learning outcomes and assessment criteria for each unit. In this document, there is guidance relating to learning, teaching and assessment strategies for this qualification and an explanation of the assessment quality assurance processes.

Aims of the Qualification:

The aims of this qualification are to:

- Provide students with the skills required to work in a professional kitchen
- Develop student's cooking skills
- Develop the student's ability to integrate cooking skills in order to produce a variety of dishes
- Develop the student's ability to evaluate their cooking
- Develop the student's time management, hygiene, safety and personal appearance skills required of a professional chef

Access and Entry Requirements:

The selection of students for admission to the CTH Level 3 Diploma in Professional Cookery is at the discretion of individual approved centres. It is strongly recommended that applicants have completed formal secondary education. Students who did not complete formal secondary education but have industry experience should also be considered. Students enrol as a student member then submit their examination applications through the centre.

Qualification Accreditation Requirements:

For centres wishing to offer this qualification, there is a minimum level of professional kitchen facilities and equipment required, in addition to teaching staff with a strong vocational background. Centres should not run a new qualification before being approved by CTH. A centre inspection may take place as part of the accreditation process.

Qualification Level, Size and Structure

Qualification Level and Size:

The qualification is at Level 3 and designed to be 70 credits. The qualification conforms to the relevant level descriptors as developed by Ofqual. One credit represents ten hours of total study at any specified level. This figure includes but is not limited to formal classes, self-study, revision and assessment. However, students completing this qualification should also be able to demonstrate their ability as independent students.

The credit values and unit structures for the qualification are set out in the following table. The qualification is designed to be delivered in 700 hours of TQT (Total Qualification Time), of which 588 are Guided Learning Hours (GLH). GLH is comprised of any study time when the tutor is present. Please note all units are mandatory.

Assessment Information

Given the broad and highly varied nature of the tourism and hospitality business, assessment of knowledge purely by examination is not generally felt to be an appropriate assessment method. Students need to demonstrate their higher-level skills and qualities specified in the learning outcomes within a heterogeneous vocational context where investigative assignments and presentations are more appropriate.

Assessments of students' work will be carried out by a range of methods including assignment and practical examinations. Students' work will be measured against the specified learning outcomes and assessment criteria of each unit.

See Appendix A for specimen assessment materials.

Practical Examination

For all units which are assessed via a practical examination, students will be required to produce dishes in a real kitchen environment to demonstrate they have met the requirements of the assessment criteria. The Practical Examinations are internally written, internally assessed and externally verified by a CTH External Verifier who will either visit the centre to observe the practical examination or assess remotely through Skype, and analyse the assessment and internal verifiers mark schemes for consistency of application of marks in applying CTH standards.

The five practical units can be assessed via two or three separate examinations:

- Unit PCCHD, one of each dessert needs to be produced (frozen, cold and hot).
- Unit PCBBP, two different products need to be produced.
- Unit PCDP, two different products will need to be produced.
- Unit PCDDP, decorative items can be incorporated in the assessment of other units. One display item needs to be produced.
- Unit PCPPP, one paste product and 2 types of petit fours need to be produced.

For each examination, students are required to produce a time plan to show they are able to plan and an ingredient request form to demonstrate they can order the food they need.

Qualification Grading Criteria

Individual units can be graded either as fail, pass, merit or distinction. However, the qualification is not subject to grading. The qualification is either achieved or not achieved.

In terms of certification, this means that students will receive a transcript of their results showing the grades for each unit successfully completed, plus the Diploma that recognises their level of achievement.

All assessments carry equal weighting and will be marked out of 100 marks and graded as follows:

Fail	Pass	Merit	Distinction
0 – 39 Marks	40 – 59 Marks	60 - 79 Marks	80 – 100 Marks

The following table explains the generic grading criteria that should be used by centres in conjunction with the unit mark sheets to assess all students' work.

Level 3	Students who fail:	To achieve a pass, students must:	To achieve a merit grade (60% to 79%) students must:	To achieve a distinction grade (80%+) students must:

Delivering the Qualification

Resources

A professional kitchen environment, including associated food storage areas is essential for the delivery of this qualification. The kitchen may take the form of a full production kitchen and/or a skills-based kitchen. These would need to be completely furnished with the professional equipment and tools to teach professional cookery at this level. A cookery demonstration area would also be an advantage. Access to a range of cookery and food related books is essential. Centres will need to meet these specialist resource requirements when they seek approval from CTH.

CTH aims to support centres by providing examples of recipes and combinations of dishes on the CTH members website that meet the grading criteria at each level, as it is important that centres delivering CTH qualifications understand the requirements fully for each level. In general Level 3 expectations are for an increased range of cooking techniques and more complex dishes than a Level 2 qualification. For example, a purée soup is at Level 2 whereas a Lobster bisque would be a Level 3 soup due to the complexity of preparation and cooking methods.

Teaching staff

Staff delivering and assessing the Level 3 Diploma in Professional Cookery: Confectionery and Patisserie should be completely familiar with current practice standards in the sector and have experience of cooking at the level above the level to be delivered as a minimum. Ideally the teaching staff should have had experience as a Sous Chef at high standard establishments such as 5 star hotels.

A teaching qualification, experience of teaching and a professional qualification in the subject taught, at one level higher than the level taught, is also desirable. CTH will require the CV's of all teaching staff when the centre seeks approval to deliver the qualification.

Equipment

Students will be required to wear suitable protective clothing (PPE) during all practical sessions throughout the course to meet the requirements of the Food Safety Act 1990 (or similar legislation). Chef's whites, headwear and safety shoes would be the preferred option. Knives will be an essential requirement of the course and provision of a personal set will be necessary. These could be made available through the centre to ensure suitability.

Delivery strategies – Practical units

This qualification is primarily practical in structure and it is important that the teaching reflects this. Students must have the opportunity to explore cuisine through the preparation and cooking of a range of dishes which cover the full spectrum of the menu structure, enabling students to develop the skills to take their assessments.

Students need to experience through demonstration and practical work all the key elements of cooking for which they are being assessed.

The Qualification Handbook available to accredited centres includes indicative content column for each practical/food unit, showing the minimum requirement, which must be covered by the time the unit is completed. Teachers should ensure that practical work carried out by the students fully reflects the purpose of the unit to be assessed and covers the indicative content requirements.

Centres need to show, on each recipe making up the portfolio and on each exam marking sheet, what indicative content was covered.

Students will be required to follow professional, safe and hygienic practices at all times.

Students will need to build an electronic portfolio of evidence to demonstrate their skills level. This should be made up of recipes which have been produced during the length of the course. Recipes should include ingredients, methods, a picture of the completed dish held by the student, students' notes, assessor's feedback and indicative content covered when making the dish.
