Gold standard qualifications for Hospitality, Culinary & Tourism

At CTH, our core mission is to provide the highest standard of qualifications. We achieve this through robust monitoring supported by industry, universities and the UK government regulator, Ofqual. CTH is also a member of the Federation of Awarding Bodies.

We have strong partnerships with major international employers and academic institutions. For example, CTH Culinary programmes have been developed with professional chefs including Gordon Ramsey's Tante Marie organisation, whilst Virgin Atlantic and Star Alliance work with CTH on our Travel certificate qualifications.

About the Confederation:

The need for qualified personnel

Travel, tourism and hospitality is the world's single biggest industry and it has been estimated by the World Tourism Organisation that around one job in ten now depends on this fast growing sector. Travellers and tourists expect high standards of service and hospitality and it is only through organised and structured training that the industry can meet these expectations.

The Confederation of Tourism & Hospitality was established in 1982 to provide recognised standards of management training appropriate to the needs of the hotel and travel industries, via its syllabi, examinations and awards.

CTH programmes are continuously developed and improved to ensure they are relevant and up to date. This is carried out under the careful scrutiny and supervision of experts in all aspects of the hotel, tourism and travel industries.

Why CTH qualifications?

More than 150 Approved Teaching Centres deliver CTH qualifications globally and over 30,000 CTH learning assessments are taken each year, making the Confederation one of the leading hospitality, culinary and tourism award bodies in the world.

CTH programmes are well respected around the world, as demonstrated by the range and depth of our industry partnerships. These include programme endorsements from leading sectorial organisations such as Virgin Atlantic, Gordon Ramsay, Star Alliance, Radisson Edwardian Hotels, Thistle hotels and GTMC to name a few. Students can be confident that gaining a CTH qualification is an excellent start to a promising career with truly global opportunities.

Those studying for the specialist examinations and assessments of the Confederation are offered a structured learning process, encompassing both the theoretical and practical aspects of the industry. In addition, CTH offers students a defined pattern of career development through further study opportunities and to enjoy the graduate benefits of our Hospitality and Tourism membership organisation partners.

1 Tourism & Hospitality Management Programmes Developing future talent

CTH Management Programmes offer an excellent alternative, or complement to, university study in Hospitality and Tourism.

Graduates of these programmes typically aspire to management roles, whether at junior trainee for those completing Level 4 Diploma level or at senior postgraduate level for those completing the Level 7 Diploma.

Each programme is specifically geared to a particular learning outcome. For example, the Level 5 Advanced Diploma is an ideal pathway course for centres seeking to run a full university 'top-up' final year, while the Level 6 Professional Diploma offers a complete integrated degree level learning package in itself.

Some of our Management Level awards:

CTH is an awarding body recognised and regulated by Ofqual, who are the official regulators of qualifications, exams and tests in England. It is also recognised by a range of authorities and regulators worldwide.

The Federation of Awarding Bodies is the membership body which represents awarding organisations in the UK. CTH is a member of the Federation & fully abides by their policies & guidelines.

The Dhaka Sheraton Hotel endorses CTH qualifications in Hospitality Management as providing suitable preparation for employment opportunities in the hotel industry.

Thistle hotels are part of Guoman Hotel Management (UK) Limited operating a number of hotels throughout the UK. Thistle endorses the CTH qualifications in Hospitality and Tourism Management Level 6.

The Mantis Collection is a group of five star boutique accommodation and safari parks in Africa and Europe. The Mantis Collection endorses the CTH L4 Diploma and L5 Diploma in Hotel Management.

THE RITZ-CARLTON

The Ritz-Carlton Golf & Spa Resort, Rose Hall Resort in Jamaica endorses CTH qualifications in Hotel Management as providing suitable preparation for employment opportunities in the hotel industry.

Renaissance Doha City Centre Hotel endorses the CTH qualifications in Hospitality Management as providing suitable preparation for employment opportunities in the hotel industry.

Award-winning Premier Inn is the UK's largest and fastest-growing hotel brand with 578 budget hotels and more than 40,000 rooms. Premier Inn endorses the CTH Postgraduate Diploma in Hospitality & Tourism Management.

Management Programmes Overview

Introduction

CTH Management Programmes offer a comprehensive range of study programmes designed to suit all learning objectives.

Level 3 – Foundation Certificate/Diploma

An introductory foundation in the core elements of the sector.

Level 4 – Diploma

For students seeking an essential grounding in management principles for direct entry to trainee positions in the industry.

Level 5 – Advanced Diploma

The next step, leading to direct entry into a final year 'top-up' university degree, and equivalent to year two of a bachelor's degree.

Level 6 – Professional Diploma

Offering equivalence to the majority of a full final year of a UK university bachelor's degree programme. Students completing this award can convert it into a university bachelor's degree with just a small amount of further study.

Level 7 – Executive

A broad postgraduate learning programme, ideal for those with supervisory management experience in the sector.

Pathways

Opening the way to careers

CTH syllabi are carefully developed and updated on a regular basis in consultation with industry professionals to ensure their relevance to the actual career environment.

For example, in the case of the tourism and travel agency management programmes, the fares and ticketing components have been developed in conjunction with Virgin Atlantic Airways and the Star Alliance network of airlines.

Over the years, students who have completed CTH Diploma and Advanced Diploma programmes have progressed to successful careers in a wide range of roles within the hospitality and tourism industries.

Opening the way to university

CTH Management Programmes are widely recognised by universities as offering equivalency to degree level study. At undergraduate level, CTH Level 4 Diploma and Level 5 Advanced Diploma graduates may therefore gain direct entry to the second or final year of a variety of hospitality & tourism degree programmes, whilst Level 6 Professional Diploma graduates will typically only need to complete just a few further modules to complete a bachelor's degree. Similarly, at postgraduate level Level 7 Executive Diploma graduates may apply to the latter stages of an MA, MSc. or MBA.

University pathways

CTH graduates have access to a range of universities which specialise in tourism or hospitality, not just in the UK but internationally. Some of these partnerships are shown below. Visit our website for the latest list.

Career pathways

"The CTH approved centre has been providing industry training to more than 150 personnel in the Hilton Hotel Dalian including the CTH Diploma programme for middle and senior level managers. We have employed many students from the school in the Hilton Hotel Dalian in industry training positions. With their skills and values, these students are the hotel industry managers of tomorrow."

Wolfgang Maier

CTH Level 3 Foundation Diploma Entry Level

Overview

These programmes are designed as a foundation for those new to the sector. Typically studied after High School education, completion of the Diploma is an excellent primer for students seeking to progress to Level 4.

Hospitality and tourism is the world's single biggest industry, covering everything from international airlines and global hotel chains right down to small family-run restaurants and private tour guiding. The career options are huge and varied. CTH offers programmes specially designed to prepare the next generation of professionals in the sector. This preliminary foundation course is the first step towards an exciting career...

Admission requirements

These are open access qualifications however students should typically be at least 16, have completed secondary education and have English IELTS 5.0 equivalent. Students should also have basic study skills. International students may combine this programme with the CTH English for Tourism & Hospitality course to improve their industry-related English vocabulary, now available as an extensive Teaching Pack to Centres.

Study structure

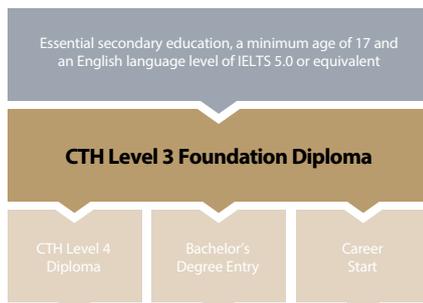

The CTH Level 3 Foundation Diploma programmes are 120 credits. Students are required to demonstrate interpersonal, self study and research and presentation skills throughout and assessments are developed to encourage these skills to provide students with a strong foundation for further studies in hospitality and tourism sectors.

Students can achieve the 600 Guided Learning Hours (1200 TQT) in a combination of face to face classroom interactions, attending seminars, visits to hotels, self study and group study as well as research work. Students based at a study centre, will be required to attend a certain number of lecture hours to support their studies and will receive guidance to complete the learning hours.

Students that are following this qualification without face to face interactions, such as online or distance study may require more hours to complete the qualification.

Pathways

Successful graduates of the Diploma may apply for entry to any of CTH's Undergraduate Level programmes. Alternatively, the qualification is accepted for direct entry to a wide range of hospitality and tourism related bachelor's degree programmes.

A student's experience

"I have a natural passion for the hotel industry. Although I already had seven years experience in the hotel industry across three different countries I felt I needed to complete my profile academically in order to develop a career at a management level. I conducted research and discovered that CTH was the most valuable organisation since it delivers well structured professional courses and is internationally recognised among the leading hotel companies. After completing my first Diploma semester, I got a position at the five star deluxe Hotel "Langham" After completing the diploma level, I was promoted to supervisory level. I believe studying with CTH has been my most valuable experience and has aided my career progression."

CTH Level 5 Advanced Diploma Undergraduate Level (Part 2)

Overview

The CTH Level 5 Advanced Diploma is a substantive management programme, typically taught over a nine month period and designed to provide direct entry to the final year of a university bachelor's degree.

The course aims to provide students with an understanding of the managerial, decision making and leadership aspects of the industry. In addition it is also designed to develop independent research and study skills required when working at senior managerial level in the industry. It is therefore an excellent preparation for either entry to the workplace or as a springboard into final year bachelors degree level study.

Two specialist streams are offered, one in Hospitality Management and one in Tourism Management. Each comprises seven mandatory units (five of which are common, with two specialised) and 480 Guided Learning Hours (1200 TQT). It leads to a total of 175 credits.

Assessment is via a combination of closed book written examination or assignment/work assessment. All assessments are marked or moderated by CTH.

CTH Level 6 Professional Diploma

Undergraduate Level (Part 3)

Overview

The CTH Level 6 Professional Diploma is designed to be equivalent to most of the final year of a bachelor's degree.

This programme is CTH's ultimate undergraduate level award and has been expressly designed to provide similar learning to that provided by much of the final year of a British university bachelor's degree programme in hospitality and tourism.

In fact, graduates of this programme are able to convert their award into a recognised British university bachelor's degree from Derby University simply by completing an additional three units online with the University.

The Level 6 Diploma programme is designed as an advanced 120 credit, 480 Guided Learning Hours (1200 TQT) qualification in international hospitality & tourism management, covering all the key skills required for a management career in the sector.

Admission requirements

Admission to this programme is open to those students who have completed an appropriate Level 5 qualification in a relevant subject, such as a CTH Level 5 Advanced Diploma, or a relevant HND. Applicants should also have at least English IELTS 5.5 level or equivalent and possess high level academic study skills (Harvard referencing and criticality).

Le Meridien Etoile, Paris endorses CTH's Level 6 Diploma in Tourism & Hospitality Management qualifications as meeting the industry standards and preparing students with essential skills and competences for employment.

Right - The University of Derby's Vice Chancellor and CTH's Director of Partnerships sign the new progression agreement at the University's main campus in April 2019

A student's experience

"I am currently enrolled in the Level 6 Diploma in Hospitality and Tourism course by CTH in Williams College.

I have searched for a course which enhances my career prospects, educational growth and provides greater in-depth into the hospitality and tourism industry. There is no course better than CTH currently in the market because as an overseas student this course not only gives me insight into the UK Hospitality sector but also helps me to gain an international perspective on the same.

I was given adequate information about the course and its usefulness at the time of enrolment at Williams College here in London. The course fees are affordable and the learning experience at Williams College is very satisfying. The academic and admin team provide great support to all students and the facilities, including the learning resources centre, and the support from the CTH course leader at every stage of our course is truly helpful."

CTH Level 7 Executive Diploma Postgraduate Level Programme

Overview

CTH's ultimate awards, designed to provide a stepping stone onto Master's Degrees and management roles.

This respected international qualification is appropriate for hospitality and tourism graduates, as well as for experienced hospitality and tourism managers without a first degree. It can also provide an effective progression route for graduates in other fields who wish to make a career change into the growing hospitality and tourism sectors.

The Executive programme

Senior management positions within the hospitality and tourism sectors increasingly require applicants to be able to demonstrate proven strategic management skills. Whilst it is possible for this to be evidenced by extensive career experience, the possession of a recognised post-graduate level management qualification adds credibility and strength to any CV.

Developed from CTH's deep industry-specific experience, the CTH level 7 Executive Diploma in International Hospitality & Tourism Management covers all the key management skills in its eight different units. It is designed to equip you with the skills you need to advance your career into senior management roles within this huge global industry.

Admission requirements

- Minimum of a recognised university degree in a relevant hospitality, tourism or management subject. Equivalence for non-UK degrees should be evaluated through NARIC.
- Non-graduates and holders of non-relevant degrees - A minimum of 5 years of evidenced work experience at managerial level within the hospitality & tourism industries.
- Successful completion of the CTH Level 6 Professional Diploma.

All applicants must be individually pre-approved for admission by CTH, and have good English (to at least IELTS 6.0 or equivalent) and high level academic study skills (Harvard referencing and criticality).

Programme structure & assessment

This is a 120 credit, 360 Guided Learning Hour (1200 TQT) programme in which students are required to demonstrate interpersonal, self study and research and presentation skills throughout the qualification. Assessments are developed to encourage these skills and include both time-restricted examinations and project-based assignments.

The assessment of candidates' work is Centre-based, against the specified learning outcomes. Centres are expected to demonstrate a robust assessment system. In order to manage the quality of assessment within approved Centres, CTH carries out external marking and moderation of assessments.

2 Culinary Programmes

Fostering excellence in international cuisine

CTH Culinary awards have been carefully developed to provide a truly Gold Standard of qualifications for this specialist sector.

Our qualifications are available for a wide range of cuisine types, including specialist areas such as Vegetarian cookery and Confectionary & Patisserie. And they are offered at all levels from entry-level (Level 2) right up to advanced (Level 4).

Wherever possible our syllabi are developed in conjunction with leading industry practitioners and trainers to ensure career-relevance and long-term employability.

Some of our Culinary awards:

Successful graduates of CTH Culinary Skills Programmes are awarded an official certificate of their achievement.

CTH offers a range of culinary programmes, covering not just general culinary skills but also more specialist areas such as vegetarian cookery, ethnic cookery, kitchen & larder and confectionary & patisserie.

CTH Culinary Programmes are designed to offer flexibility of entry, as well as a steady progression of level up to university bachelor's degree.

Cookery Skills

LEVEL 2 AWARD, CERTIFICATE & DIPLOMA PROGRAMMES

A set of entry-level programmes that introduce candidates to a range of core food preparation and cooking techniques designed to provide a basis for a first working role in a professional kitchen.

SPECIALIST SHORT PROGRAMMES

CTH Level 2 Award in Vegetarian Cookery Skills

A vegetarian option of the Level 2 Award is available in which the last module is replaced by a module covering the preparation of solely vegetarian dishes.

Level 2 Award in Healthier Cooking & Eating

A specialist short award (7 credits, 75 Guided Learning Hours) in Healthier Cooking & Eating that is ideal for those students seeking to learn how to prepare healthier dishes. Please enquire for details.

CTH Level 2 Award in Food Safety & Hygiene

A short single unit award (1 credit, 8 Guided Learning Hours) in Food Safety & Hygiene that provides the essential knowledge for kitchen safety. Ideal for online delivery. Please enquire for details.

CORE PROGRAMMES

The aim of these qualifications is to:

- Provide an introduction to the core skills required in a professional kitchen
- Develop skills required within the catering industry
- Increase candidates' chances of gaining employment

The courses introduce candidates to essential kitchen skills for employment, with learning outcomes focused on practical cookery and kitchen skills rather than underpinning theory. The qualifications are at Level 2 (allowing open access to all candidates) and develop a variety of kitchen skills such as safety, food hygiene, personal cleanliness, working methods and code of conduct.

Assessment is via practical examination where students have to produce dishes in a professional kitchen environment. Each unit individually assessed and carries equal weighting. The qualification is assessed internally but with external moderation from a CTH assessor.

Moderation takes the form of attending examination sessions and analysis of internal assessor's mark schemes for consistency of marking. CTH also carries out a standardisation session with each delivery centre prior to practical examinations taking place.

LEVEL 2 SPECIALIST AWARD FOR CHEFS IN HEALTH & SOCIAL CARE

Offered in partnership with the renowned Institute of Hospitality this is a unique qualification specifically designed for people who cater for patients and residents in a health and social care setting and aims to develop their awareness of diet and appetite issues that may arise in this environment.

It was specially developed by the Institute of Hospitality in association with the Hospital Caterers Association (HCA) and National Association of Care Catering (NACC). It therefore embodies the very best practice in this specialist field.

This specialist Level 2 qualification has been custom-designed for people who cater for patients and residents in a health and social care setting and aims to develop their awareness of diet and appetite issues that may arise in this environment.

It covers the importance of nutrition and hydration in maintaining health and well being, how multi-professional teams work together to provide the level of nutritional care needed by different people, the needs of Dysphagia sufferers and how the condition impacts on diets and menus, how to cook food and amend menus for Dysphagia sufferers, the role of appetite and its influencing factors, and how to cook and hold food to maximise its effect on appetite.

Sector recognition

This accredited qualification is designed to complement existing NVQ qualifications in professional cookery and the Trailblazers Commis Chef Apprenticeships Standard. It is based on the recommendations of the National Occupational Standards (NOS) related to professional cookery and health and social care, the recommendations of good practice outlined by the National Association of Care Catering and the recommendations of the Hospital Caterers Association (HCA).

Learners will also have complimentary guest membership of the Hospital Caterers

Association (HCA) and complimentary student membership to the National Association of Care Catering (NACC) during the course.

Syllabus Overview

The course covers the following skills:

- Nutrition & Hydration - The learner will be able to understand the impact of nutrition and hydration on health and wellbeing, understand nutrition and hydration for population sub-groups and know the roles of multidisciplinary teams, national standards and guidelines.
- Food Modification in Health Care Settings - The learner will be able to understand the impact of Dysphagia on patients or residents and plan, prepare, cook and finish food for patients or residents suffering from Dysphagia.

Culinary Arts

LEVEL 4 DIPLOMA PROGRAMME

A career as a professional chef is challenging but also immensely rewarding. Professional cookery, as many celebrity chefs have shown, is a highly creative activity and one that demands dedication, creativity and flair.

The CTH Culinary Arts Diploma has been carefully developed in partnership with Gordon Ramsay's Tante Marie organisation to provide students with an excellent set of skills in food preparation in a professional environment - a perfect first step to a rewarding culinary career.

"Our professional qualification is designed in consultation with some of the industry's leading chefs. Throughout this qualification, students will learn the skills and knowledge required to cook in a professional kitchen environment, and gain the keys to a successful career in the industry."

Gordon Ramsay and Tante Marie

GORDON
RAMSAY

Designed by CTH and Gordon Ramsay's Tante Marie for those with ambitions to become a professional chef and for those who would like a career in food.

The qualification is a mix of practical and theoretical sessions but with a strong emphasis on the practical element. As well as the key cooking subjects, the curriculum also covers menu planning and budgeting.

The qualification develops culinary skills by working in a kitchen environment which will be enhanced through demonstrations, appropriate theory sessions and visits. Students develop knife skills, familiarity with produce, and master many professional skills such as elementary butchery, fish preparation and pastry work, to an appropriate level.

Structures

The assessment methodology for Menu Planning is by assignment, all other units by practical examination. Each of the modules is internally and externally assessed and the qualification awarded by CTH.

Admission Requirements

Students must have completed formal secondary education and have a minimum English IELTS 5.0 level or an approved equivalent. Students must be over 16.

Centre Requirements

The CTH Culinary Arts Diploma is a specialist course designed to impart a high level of skill to the students that undertake it. Centres seeking to run the programme must therefore be able to demonstrate both a high standard of built culinary training facilities and excellence in their teaching personnel.

Syllabus Overview

The course covers skills including:

Prepare, Cook, and Finish;

- Farinaceous Dishes
- Fish and Shell Fish
- Hors d'oeuvres, Cocktails and Canapés
- Meat, Poultry and Game
- Pastries, Desserts and Confectionary
- Soups
- Stocks, Sauces and Dressings
- Terrine Dishes
- Vegetables and Salads
- Yeast Products

And

- Menu Planning
- Professional Kitchen Skills

This Level 4 Diploma in Professional Culinary Arts comprises 900 Guided Learning Hours (1,200 TQT) and carries 120 credits. This enables students to gain credit towards any future qualifications they may wish to take, be they at university or CTH accredited colleges around the world.

3 Career Skills Programmes

Developing practical skills for the workplace

Each CTH Career Skills programme is a specialised qualification, carefully designed to meet the unique training needs of a particular practical role within the travel and tourism industry.

In every case the syllabi are of the highest standard and developed in tandem with leading organisations in the sector.

Ranging from short training courses in a single specialist skill right up to a comprehensive Diploma in a range of practitioner competencies, CTH Career Skills programmes deliver training that both enhances job performance and develops career prospects.

Our Career Skills awards:

Successful graduates of CTH Career Skills programmes are awarded an official certificate of their achievement.

CTH believes that industry relevance is an essential factor in the achievement of effective training. We therefore take great care to involve leading industry players wherever possible in the planning and development of our programme syllabi.

Shown here are just some of the industry partners who we work with for our various Short Course Skills programmes.

Assessment is by an online synoptic exam, plus a single overall synoptic assessment.

External Programme Endorsement

What is an endorsement?

In very special circumstances, CTH will allow one of its Approved Teaching Centres to carry the 'CTH Endorsed' logo on their own internal certificates for their own internal courses.

This can occur where a Centre is running a high quality programme that is not covered by any of CTH's existing awards. In such situations the 'CTH Endorsed' logo serves as a quality assurance mark for these internal awards and enables the centre to demonstrate a degree of external validation of the programme.

Who is it for?

CTH will only consider endorsing programmes that are offered by a very well-respected institution such as a high-ranking university, major industry employer or similar.

How much does it cost?

The cost of a programme endorsement will vary depending on the nature and complexity of the programme in question, however, it usually consists of an up front assessment fee as well as an incremental fee per student.

4 Partnering with CTH

How we work with you & your students

With hundreds of approved teaching centres already operating the world over, CTH has a well-established support network in place to help new centres get up and running with the minimum of difficulty.

This includes learning resources, training material and on-line support, all carefully structured to optimise learning, both inside and outside the classroom.

Your students will benefit from membership of a global body that unites professionals in the tourism and hospitality sectors, with on-line forums, events and networking opportunities to help them develop their future careers.

Approved Centres

A CTH 'Approved Centre' is an organisation (typically a college, professional training organisation or corporate internal training department) that has been approved to run certain CTH programmes under license.

To become an approved centre you need to apply to CTH, giving full details and enclosing the CVs of the lecturers who will be employed. CTH will then assess the proposed lecturers' suitability and your centre facilities. CTH may request a visit to inspect your facilities and meet your proposed lecturers. On approval, centres are granted provisional accreditation for one year. This is upgraded to full accreditation for a further two years providing the centre has registered candidates for examinations and the agreement regulations have been upheld.

Criteria for Centre Acceptance -

Applications for 'Recognised CTH Centre' status should have and provide evidence of the following:

- Appropriate premises, facilities and equipment typical of a further education establishment.
- Suitable lecturing staff with appropriate and relevant academic qualifications and industry experience.
- The appropriate government approvals or equivalent regulatory body approvals as required.

Individual Members

There are two grades of membership:

Student Member - All CTH students are given student membership automatically when they register on their CTH programme.

This gives them access to the CTH Member website which incorporates many valuable features including:

- Textbooks
- Industry news and articles
- Study materials
- Peer group networking
- Inspiring and informative video content
- Job search
- Discussion groups

Fellow (FCTH) - Awarded at the discretion of the Confederation to those who have achieved positions of significant responsibility in the industry, or who have made notable contributions to the work of the Confederation.

Corporate Associates

At CTH we believe strongly in the idea that a professional awards body can only be effective and relevant if it works closely within the industry it represents. We therefore seek to always work closely with leading figures, companies and sectoral organisations from the Tourism and Hospitality industries in the development and constant updating of our programmes.

Our long-standing relationships with organisations such as the Institute of Hospitality, Institute of Travel & Tourism, the Guild of Travel Management Companies, Intercontinental Hotel Group and Virgin Atlantic Airways demonstrate this professional sectoral commitment.

CTH is always seeking to expand its links of this type and welcomes partnership opportunities with leading Tourism and Hospitality industry players on an on-going basis.

Key Facts

CTH learning resources for students and lecturers

CTH Learning Support

FREE support for CTH Approved Teaching Centres

As a part of our on-going commitment to support our CTH Approved Teaching Centres worldwide CTH provides a range of programme-specific delivery materials for many of our course modules.

Preparing to launch a new programme and developing the necessary course delivery material can be a lengthy and expensive process for colleges. Typically it means developing lecture slides, case studies, sample assessments and so on. It can be a major cost, especially for smaller colleges, and the end result is rarely as comprehensive as staff and students would like.

Designed primarily as a lecturer resource, CTH offers a selection of materials for many of its programmes. These range from sample menus and recipes for culinary programmes to helpful learning toolkits for management programmes (each comprising a mass of handouts, case studies, exam guides & revision materials for lecturers to draw on.)

And in some instances, CTH even provides complete sets of full learner materials in the form of comprehensive Study Manuals that provide all the knowledge that the student needs to learn for that qualification.

General lecturer's guidance on the CTH Members website

The CTH Members website is not just for our students, it is also a key resource for teachers delivering our programmes. Each CTH Approved Teaching Centre gets special access to the site that enables them to access a wealth of lecturer guidance not available to Student Members. This includes guidance videos, helpful hints and lecturer resource materials.

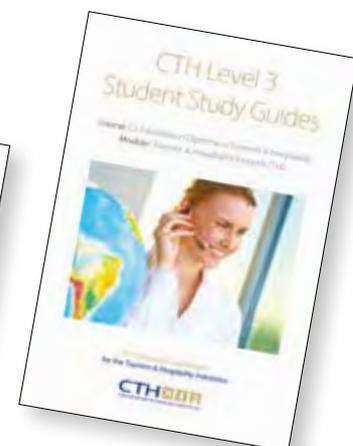

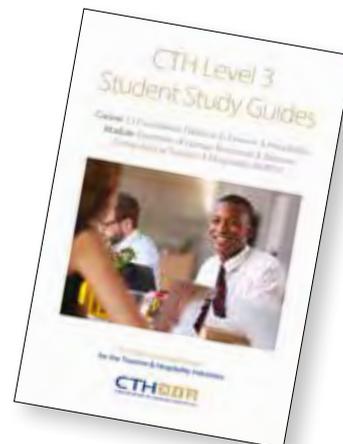

A range of CTH lecturer guidance videos are available on the CTH Members website.

CTH Study Guides (Level 3 & 4 Management programmes)

Each Guide comprises between 103 to 142 pages of carefully prepared learning materials built around the needs of the CTH syllabus.

These are written to be easily understood and digested, with helpful graphics and industry context examples where appropriate. In addition, each Guide includes student exercises, activities and revision materials, all designed to make the learning process as accessible and user-friendly as possible.

CTH Study Guides are available for selected programmes and are complete learning materials, allowing the student to even study by distance learning where necessary.

To help students gain the most they can from their studies CTH has developed a range of support resources to ease and speed the learning process.

CTH Learning Support

Learning Toolkits (CTH Management programmes)

CTH's module-specific LTKs are wide-ranging teaching resources, providing hundreds of pages of materials to help lecturers effectively deliver their subject. They are designed as a resource that lecturers can dip into where needed to support their lecture delivery.

They are free for CTH Approved Teaching Centres to use for the delivery of CTH programmes and for sharing with their CTH students (unlike textbooks that are typically restricted by copyright).

Toolkit resources:

- Syllabus & unit structure outline
- Division of syllabus into sessions
- Scheme of work
- Key topics identified as concepts and application
- Knowledge and skills requirement
- Session plans
- Session delivery slides and notes
- Real industry examples
- Session articles, quiz & test
- Instructor session planning worksheet
- Supervisor teaching techniques
- Revision cards
- Scenario mini cases
- Assessment prep manual
- FAQ manual

Each CTH Learning Tool Kit has a huge number of sections providing extensive lecturer and student support material.

New CTH Approved Teaching Centres receive extensive support to help them get started...

Step one

Student Members of CTH, as well as staff at CTH Approved Teaching Centres, get automatic access to the CTH Members section of the CTH website.

This vibrant on-line environment is packed with study and industry information. It includes:

- Study Resources - The Study Resources section is specifically designed to assist CTH Student Members, as well as their lecturers and Approved Teaching Centres. This section comprises a range of study material, including past papers, module materials, research papers, a Harvard Referencing Guide and more.
- Career Support - This page is split into two areas: the Job Search and the Job Tips page. The Job Search specialises in searching for jobs in the hospitality & tourism industry, worldwide. The Job Tips offers advice and articles to help students get into and manoeuvre through the working world.
- Industry News - Access and update yourself with the latest news and events from around the world.
- Web Directory - Whether you are looking for employers or you want to investigate your assignment topic in more detail you can find relevant hospitality and tourism website links in one place here.

A pathway to professional membership

When CTH students graduate they can move on to career membership of the relevant industry professional body. CTH has a close relationship with both the Institute of Hospitality and the Institute of Travel & Tourism.

Helping build your career

These professional institutes are the leading industry membership bodies for their sectors, with thousands of members worldwide.

They offer a unique set of benefits for their members designed to help them during their career post-qualification:

- Professional Recognition - with members able to use internationally acknowledged initials after their name.
- Keeping you up to date - with industry news and job opportunities.

■ Networking Events - The ability to network with key members of the industry via events, seminars and conferences.

■ Online - A range of web services, helping you to manage your professional development.

Introductory membership of these prestigious professional bodies is offered to CTH graduates at specially discounted rates.

When you become a CTH Student Member you gain access to a massive array of learning support material and industry information

CTH Student Member services

The CTH Members area is a dedicated password protected section of the CTH website that has been specially developed as a resource for our members worldwide.

Once logged in, members can access a range of services including extensive study resources, industry jobs, industry news and a variety of other services.

One of the greatest attractions of CTH Members are its study resources, which include an extensive industry-specific eLibrary, learning materials, past examination papers and a range of industry journals.

At each level the site is carefully-structured and designed to be easy to navigate. Students can access useful materials of various types that can support their learning process.

A student's experience

"For as long as I can remember I have liked to cook. Food for me is an art of flavour, different textures and colours on the plate and at that time I didn't have enough knowledge about it. So it was an easy decision: go to school and learn more!

One of the reasons I chose Tante Marie was because Gordon Ramsay is one of the owners. I just followed my idol. I thought, if I change my career, I will learn from the best. I knew this is only the first step to my professional culinary world; but very important one. I've really enjoyed making desserts and bread, and especially to make sauces. To my opinion the sauce is "the soul" of the final dish. The sauce gives flavour and character to a dish.

Once I have finished my CTH level 4 Diploma in Culinary Arts my plans are firstly: to improve my knowledge about French cuisine, to finish my software for professional kitchens and find investors. Secondly: to get more knowledge of other cuisines. Finally: to find a job where I could use my knowledge."

Quality Assurance & Examination Procedures

Quality Assurance

Statement of Quality Assurance

CTH provides recognised standards of Management training appropriate to the needs of the Hotel, Tourism and Travel industries through its syllabi, examinations and awards. These are continually improved to ensure that they are relevant and up-to-date. CTH offers a structured learning process, encompassing both the theoretical and practical aspects of the industry, integrating the various subjects, together with a clearly defined pattern of career development through progressive grades of membership.

To achieve its mission CTH works in partnership with approved delivery centres, employers and stakeholders to:

- Promote quality by providing clear, complete information on all aspects of the curriculum.
- Ensure examinations are in line with industry requirements by providing relevant and appropriate syllabus content.
- Provide responsive and practical support to approved training centres at all times and within stated time frames.
- Assist approved centres with marketing and development wherever practicable.
- Respect the cultural and religious aspects of our approved training centres, staff, candidates and members.
- Communicate and promote information on the academic standards and quality of our courses, on behalf of our approved colleges, members and candidates.

- Safeguard the candidate and wider public interest in the maintenance of academic awards and the quality of education which our courses provide.

CTH requires Approved Centres to conform to the following guidelines to:

- Have effective financial management procedures in place to ensure the fees due to CTH are collected, recorded and paid to CTH promptly.
- Have in place facilities and systems to provide quality training, assessment and implementation of the CTH syllabus for all candidates in line with equal opportunities legislation.
- Ensure the class size does not exceed 35 candidates. Where the programme is taught in a lecture/tutorial format the lectures should not exceed 100 candidates with a 40% ratio of tutorials with no more than 20 candidates.
- Ensure examinations are administered according to CTH policy and procedures. Failure to adhere to these policies and procedures may result in the centre being found guilty of malpractice. Centres should refer to CTH's Malpractice Policy.
- Maintain effective management procedures to monitor candidate class attendance rates and to take such action as is necessary to ensure a minimum 80% attendance rate to comply with the centre's local government regulations.

- Provide information, advice and academic support to the CTH candidates enrolled at the centre.
- Ensure the lecturing staff are competent to deliver the CTH syllabus for which the approved centre is licensed.
- Adhere to CTH's Equal Opportunities Policy.
- Ensure CTH candidates are at all times treated in a professional manner.
- Respect the cultural and religious aspects of our approved colleges, staff, candidates and members.
- Inform candidates of their anticipated learning outcome and periodically inform them of their progress. Successes should be reinforced and unsatisfactory performance addressed to ensure the best possible outcome for the candidate.

CTH requires that all enrolled candidates:

- Should be fully engaged in the learning process and their attention focused on the process so that the candidate is able to progress according to their rate of comprehension.
- Must be responsive and respectful to the teaching staff.
- Should at all times ensure that their behaviour does not adversely affect their fellow candidates or their study centre.
- Have a commitment to study and excellence.

At CTH, our core mission is to provide the highest standard of qualifications. CTH achieves this through robust monitoring, supported by industry.

Examination Procedures

Academic entry requirements

CTH offers qualifications at a wide range of levels and so specific admission criteria may vary according to both CTH's own requirements and those of the individual Approved Centre. Please check to confirm the specific requirements of each course.

Generally, lower level programmes are open-access and therefore available to any student at entry level so long as they have had a good secondary education and have reasonable English fluency.

More advanced levels typically require the student to have completed the lower level (or an equivalent) prior to undertaking the higher level qualification.

Eligibility for entry to examination or assessment by assignment

Candidates for the Confederation's examinations or assignments must, at the time of entry, be undertaking (or have just completed) the respective course at an approved educational establishment.

Students taking Diploma programmes are required to become Student Members of the Confederation before they may register for examinations or assignments.

Exam registration process

All applications for exam registration and student membership (where required) must be made through the educational institution at which the student is registered for the CTH course. Approved Teaching Centres will hold copies of the necessary forms and will be able to advise on the fee payable at the time of registration. (Details of current CTH membership and examination fees are available on request).

All students receive automatic Student Membership and will, upon acceptance, receive an email confirming their student membership status and their individual registration number. This number must be quoted in any correspondence with the Confederation. This number must also be used on all examination and assessment work.

Exemptions

Students may apply for exemption from modules of a particular programme if they can demonstrate suitable relevant prior learning. CTH considers any request for exemption on an individual basis and qualifying documentary evidence of a prior award and transcript will normally be required. Each application will incur an exemption fee which is payable in full in advance.

Exam / Assessment Dates

Examinations and assessments are typically available on an on-demand basis for programmes at Certificate level.

For Diploma level programmes the provision of examination / assessment dates varies depending on the specific subject or level being undertaken. Generally CTH operates three standard exam rounds per year in January, June and September, however assignments and certain examinations may be available on-demand. Please enquire for further details.

Examination results & certificates

For Certificate programmes CTH typically aims to publish results within 3 - 4 weeks of examination / assessment.

For Diploma programmes CTH aims to publish results within 8 weeks of the examination of assessment date. Each candidate will receive a record of performance in one of four grades for each component of the examination. The grades are Distinction, Merit, Pass and Fail. Formal certificates are awarded to those candidates who achieve a Pass grade or above in all components of their qualification. Students may be granted exemption from some or all components, but in the event of total exemption from a particular qualification, no certificate/ diploma will be awarded.

Key Facts

How to become an official CTH Approved Teaching Centre

Making Your Application

Overview

You can apply to deliver CTH programmes by completing our Centre Application Form which is available by either emailing CTH Head Office (info@cthawards.com) or on our website (cthawards.com). It is important that you enclose the CVs of the lecturers who will teach the programme modules with your application form.

Our Centre Administration department will then assess the proposed lecturers' suitability and your centre facilities. CTH may request a visit to inspect your facilities and meet your proposed lecturers.

On approval, new Centres are granted provisional accreditation for one year. This is then upgraded to full accreditation providing the Centre has registered candidates and the agreement regulations have been upheld.

Steps Towards official CTH Centre Accreditation

Stage 1

- The applicant Centre completes the CTH application form and send with relevant documentation to CTH Head Office.

Stage 2

- CTH will review the application and request more information if necessary.
- In most cases CTH will require a Centre Inspection prior to confirmation of accreditation. Where this is logistically difficult a centre may be granted interim approval pending a confirmatory visit and physical inspection.
- CTH will then respond to the centre advising if their application has been successful. Successful applications will be sent a formal CTH License Agreement for signature.

Stage 3

- The applicant centre should return the CTH License Agreement having had it duly signed by the responsible corporate officer, keeping a copy for its own records.

Stage 4

- The CTH administration team, upon receipt of the signed License Agreement, will send the newly approved centre an official Centre Administration Pack.

NB. Centres should note that approved centres are reviewed on an annual basis.

Terms & conditions of being an approved CTH Teaching Centre

- It is a condition of granting 'Approved CTH Centre' status that the Centre granted this status accepts that all material provided by CTH is confidential and copyright to CTH.
- Any fees due to CTH must be remitted on enrolment of the students and prior to students sitting examinations.
- Any dispensation granted for the reproduction of CTH originated text or course information is specifically granted and only remains in force whilst the Centre retains its Approved Centre status.
- The Centre must undertake to adhere to all CTH's documented policies and procedures, including those covering equal opportunities.
- The Centre must undertake to accept and adhere to CTH's Quality Assurance process. Under this process CTH monitors, on an annual basis via an Annual Return, the performance of its approved centres against the criteria outlined in its Quality Assurance Statement and the Centre's CTH License Agreement.

CTH has a global network of Approved Teaching Centres that have been accredited to offer its programmes to intending students.

A centre experience

"We have been teaching the CTH Diploma and Advanced Diploma programme here in China for nearly seven years. We find CTH supportive and helpful in giving both guidance and support. They are always open to suggestions that may help to improve the programmes. Any queries we have are responded to speedily. After completion of the programme most students are offered jobs in International 5 star hotels such as Intercontinental, Shangri La and Banyan Tree and many are on Management Trainee Programmes. Some students elect to top-up their CTH qualification to a BA at an overseas university. Currently we have over 100 past students overseas and all are doing well in their continued studies. We can highly recommend the CTH programmes to any educational organisation that wants quality internationally recognised courses which are both flexible and relevant for today's hotel and tourism industries."
