

Culinary Programmes

CTH Culinary Assessments may be taken at any time as long as the student has been registered on the qualification and for the assessments. Centres will be asked to complete a form at the start of each course indicating the proposed dates of theory and practical exams and resits should they be required.

Culinary results will be issued four times a year after being presented to the CTH Exam Board and will be declared on electronic transcripts by the dates shown in the last column of the table below. Certification will be two weeks later, after allowing time for appeals.

* £15 late assessment entry fee applies per assessment

 Maximum of three attempts permitted

 For cohorts of more than 10 learners, centres will be informed of names of learners to sample once results have been entered. Only then the related evidence needs to be submitted

- All assessment registration fees must be received by CTH prior to each assessment session. For resits, registration is required and an assessment fee is payable.
- All evidence for Culinary qualifications specified in the relevant Qualification & Assessment Handbook should be submitted at one time, except for theory exams.
- Completed theory exam papers must be sent back to CTH immediately (within 24 hours of sitting the exam). Results for these papers will be notified within three weeks to allow centres to arrange resits if necessary.
- Moderation of all units will take place after the 'Last date for Evidence' date above for each Assessment Session. Where evidence is missing, CTH will not moderate the work and an absent grade will be awarded, and students must be registered for a resit for the affected units, and submit the evidence before the next session deadline.
